MAYOR REELS DEER, WE DOES BRIDGE STEAL

PROTESTS VOICED BY AMERICAN AND FINANCE COMMISSION STOP GRAB.

Complying with the demand of the people, as first voiced by the BOSTON AMERICAN on July 7, Mayor George A. Hibbard has refused to allow the Northern Avenue Bridge steal by the New Haven railroad.

For eight days the Mayor has had the free franchise of the $800,000 bridge, which the people built, and which the Aldermen, with one exception, voted to pass to the Union Freight Railroad, under consideration.

In that time, led by the BOSTON AMERICAN, the people of Boston, the Chamber of Commerce, the Teamsters' Union and the Finance Commission protested against this free gift of the new bridge.

The BOSTON AMERICAN editorially reminded the Mayor that he could have the same gift of the franchise of the new bridge by the people of the city, and that the people of the city, who have already paid for the bridge, should not be asked to pay for it again.

Refusing to allow this gift of the people's property, Mayor Hibbard said: "It is my belief that the time has come when public service corporations should give to the city a more adequate equivalent."

TO ASK INDICTMENT IN MULLINS MYSTERY

GRAND JURY TO HEAR NEW EVIDENCE SECURED ON TIP FROM NEWFOUNDLAND.

Acting on a tip received from Newfoundland, the State police have removed Mullins from the Anne Sullivan murder case and have begun sufficient progress to make it likely that the case will be brought before the Grand Jury in the Fall. Evidence, which is said to be of the greatest importance, has been uncovered during the past two days. This evidence, it is said, has never been made public and will not become known to any one other than the authorities before it is presented to the Grand Jury. Detective Attorney John J. Higgins, who has been in charge of the investigation of Anne Sullivan's death, has not yet said this time that he had not had sufficient evidence to warrant taking the case before the Grand Jury.

PIE TREE DEMOCRATS MEET TODAY

The candidates for the United States are: William H. Chase, of Bangor, and William H. Chase, of Bangor.

For State Auditor the only candidate mentioned is Everett Moore of Bangor.

Colored Clothes, Too.

Don't get the idea that P. & G. Naphtha Soap is only for White Clothes. It is for Colored Clothes, too. This is the way to wash them:

Make a light sud with cool water and P. & G. Naphtha Soap. Put the colored clothes in, one at a time and quickly wash them. Dip the hems and soiled parts into strong suds and rub them between the hands, the hem of the skirt may be gathered in the hand and rubbed on the board. Rinse quickly in several cool waters, starch and hang to dry, wring side out, in the shade.

Simple, isn't it? Try it, next wash day. P. & G. Naphtha Soap is sold by good grocers everywhere.

The price is 5 cents a cake.

INSURANCE MEN START PROBE IN GIRL'S DEATH

Mystery in Reported Killing of Mary Dolan Investigated by Legion Officials.

SAID TO BE AUTO VICTIM

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 15.—Some of the mystery surrounding the death of a young woman, Mary Dolan, who was reported to have been killed by an automobile, is being investigated by the Providence Police.

The young woman was said to be a graduate of the State Normal School, but no such name appears on the list of graduates filed at the office of the commission of public schools.

Fred J. Beardsley, claiming to be a member of the young woman's family, had a death notice inserted in one of the papers here and he related the circumstances of Miss Dolan's death to Manager Cummings. He said she was a school teacher and that she had been killed by an automobile on Saturday afternoon.

It is said that the young woman was not married and that her father was not known. It is also said that the young woman was a member of the Providence Legion.

HIGSEN INDORSED IN NEW ENGLAND—TAYLOR, HOWARD AND WALSH IN THE FIELD.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Indications of the active contest for the nomination for President at the National Convention of the Independence Party, which will be held at Chicago, Ill., and every State in the Union will be represented by a complete delegation. The convention of the Independence Party will establish a new record in the history of its history in two days. Instead of three or four days, required for the two old parties. The first day will be devoted to the organization of the convention and the reports of committees, while the second day is to be devoted to the election of the platform and the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President.

WILL CARRY HIGSEN BOOM TO CHICAGO CONVENTION

Weather to start for Chicago on Saturday, July 25, or the following day, is the question that is now being considered by the delegates from New England to the National Convention of the Independence Party. A number of delegates have expressed a desire to leave on the 25th, and if the majority are so inclined, the start will be a day earlier than was originally planned.

Thomas L. Higsen of Massachusetts, who was the candidate of the Independence Party for Governor of Massachusetts last fall, has already been endorsed by several States and his friends in New England are determined to conduct an active campaign for his nomination.

On the other hand, Howard S. Taylor of has been secured from the railroad company, making the total transportation cost, left and back, from Boston, including a Pullman berth, $43.00.

The delegates for accommodations may be made with George E. Merriam, ticket agent for the Independence Party, who is an exceptional opportunity for the delegates to make a trip to the Middle West for a very low cost.

Schedule For New England.
The delegates from New England will leave for Chicago on Saturday, July 25, or the following day, depending on the weather. The delegates from New England will leave for Chicago on Saturday, July 25, or the following day, depending on the weather.

WASHINGTON ASKS NOMINATION OF HEART AND GRAVES
WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Man-

The smaller and younger of the newsboys in Boston are just as keen and active as their older brethren there is no doubt. It was proved so by the BOSTON AMERICAN's camera men who were looking for some more newsboys who displayed the paper in such a way as to make them eligible to the AMERICAN's prize list.

Four of the best newsboys were found by the camera men. They are Joe Shea, Joe Entner, Albert Wilson, and one who lives at No. 40 Randolph street. His name is not known.

Meeting held by the Independence Party of the District of Columbia last night adopted a declaration demanding that the Chicago convention of July 27 shall nominate William Randolph Hearst for President and John D. Rockefeller for Vice-President. The delegates from the District of Columbia were instructed to vote for Mr. Hearst and Colonel Graves, and the meeting instructed the delegates to make a point of making the nomination of Hearst and Rockefeller a point of honor.

Voters: Read This Address of the Independence Party

THE birth and progress of the Independence Party mark one of the greatest popular uprisings that the politics of the Republic has ever known.

The Independence Party grows naturally and logically out of the vigorous successor, the Independence League. It is altogether less than four years old.

Within its brief but phenomenal life it has in the general eyes of all thinking men, carried the city of New York, the metropolis of the world, under the leadership of William Randolph Hearst.

Under the gubernatorial candidacy of Thomas L. Higsen it has outwitted the Democratic party in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It has swept the great city of New York into the arms of its Mayor in a great campaign.

As its candidate William Randolph Hearst polled more votes in the State of New York outside of the city than any Democrat has polled in twenty years, and was defeated only by the treason and the knife of McCarran in Brooklyn and Tammany in New York.

It is growing now with marvelous vigor in the East, in the Middle States and in the South, and the party of the people and the party of the future.

The great purpose of the Independence Party is to restore the power of government to the people and make their will supreme in the primary, in the elections and in the control of public officials after they have been elected.

The second purpose of the Independence Party is to destroy the power of special interests by destroying their principal weapon, the corruption fund.

The third purpose of the party is to correct some of the obvious financial and economic evils of the day.

The fourth object is to frame certain lines of great constructive legislation in the interests of all the people.

To these ends the Independence Party seeks to bring under one banner all the real producers of wealth—the farmer, the workingman, the non-privilege-seeking business man—and place the government in their control.

To these ends the party believes in the destructibility of accomplishing these great ends of government. It is requested to fill out the accompanying blank and mail to the address of the New England headquarters, given below.

I am in sympathy with the spirit and purpose of the Independence Party, and in order that I may effectively co-operate with its organized friends desire to have its literature sent to the address attached.

Archbishop Farley's Admirable Suggestion

It Recognizes the Work of "The Little Mothers"

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY AMERICAN JOURNAL EXAMINER

From the very efficient Bureau of Municipal Research of New York our readers learn that Archbishop Farley has asked the teachers of all the parochial schools of New York City "to give a lesson to children on the care of babies in Summer."

In this admirable suggestion the Archbishop recognizes practically and usefully the work that is done in caring for babies by the tens of thousands of "little mothers"—the babies' older sisters, themselves often barely out of their babyhood—on whom the care of the babies devolves.

Careful instruction to the little school girls in accordance with the Archbishop's order must result in the saving of many babies' lives every Summer. For it is a fact, as the Bureau of Municipal Research says, that the welfare of the babies depends in a large measure on the knowledge and intelligence of the older brothers and sisters that take care of the babies.

The Bureau of Municipal Research pays special attention to this question of protecting child life, and Mr. Bruce, the secretary of the Bureau, a very earnest and able young man, has been made chairman of the "Conference on Hot Weather Care of Babies." The BOSTON AMERICAN will be glad to publish conspicuously any special advice that Archbishop Farley may care to authorize, for his name will, of course, lend great authority.

We shall be glad also to publish the recommendations of the Bureau of Municipal Research. Here are some BOSTON AMERICAN suggestions for the older brothers and sisters that take care of the babies. Fathers and mothers might read them to the older children.

The boy or girl who takes care of a baby brother or sister is an honor to the city.

Boys and girls that are kind to babies, and that help their hard-working mothers, are doing a noble work that they can be proud of. And they will be repaid for it in more ways than one. The strength that the big boy and the big girl now enjoy comes of good care in babyhood. Boys and girls should be willing to give that same good care to the little baby brothers and sisters that depend on THEM.

It is HARD WORK caring for a baby, while other children are playing. But that is the kind of work that develops good men and women, successful fathers and mothers.

It is a many thing to take care of a weak child. It is a brave, womanly thing to help your mother and your mother's baby and your own little sister or brother at the same time.

Be patient with the children when they cry. Try to find out what is the matter. Remember that no baby cries unless it has a reason to cry; it is the same with the baby as with you, except that you are bigger and stronger. There may be a pin sticking in the baby, the sunlight may be hurting its eyes, some bad girl or boy may have teased or pinched it when you were not looking. Watch it and protect it.

Don't allow the baby to lie or sit on the hot stones in the sunlight. Keep it in the shade as much as you can, lift it gently and put it down gently. If it cries persistently take it to its mother, who will know what to do for it.

Never let the sun be on the baby's face as it sleeps. Don't let the clothing get tight around its neck or around its waist. Heat, like a blow, hurts a baby more than it hurts you.

Adjust the baby's clothing often to make it comfortable, as you fix your own clothing, in the hot, sticky weather.

It is a fact that many of the greatest, most successful men and women in the world's history have been those that were kindest to their baby brothers and sisters. That is the safest way for you to lay a foundation for future success. It is mainly to take care of a helpless little brother or sister.

It is womanly and noble to help your mother, to share her work, to care for her babies, as she cared for you.

Love's Supreme Decree
Better Than Revenge Is the Love That Kills Hate

By BELLA WHEELER WILCOX

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY AMERICAN JOURNAL EXAMINER

A acquaintance who believes in the bitterness and anger melting into pity for the innocent child who had all unconsciously and by degrees, degenerated into the malefactor. Buddha and Christ have left their imperishable commandments to love our enemies; we all find this the hardest of commands to obey, but I have found the next step to love, and I left hatred far in the distance.

The succeeding part of the divine order which both great Masters have given, "Do good to those who despitefully use you," became easier after pity entered in; for to do a good turn to the person you pity is not so difficult as to not yourself out for one you despise.

I do not think we are expected to be "chummy" and intimate with those who know are liars and mischief makers. We can keep them at a safe distance, and with our own well-directed attitude. And when an opportunity occurs to do them a favor which will, without further ground in any way, bestow it gladly. It means helping yourself to higher ground as well.

The most stern toward eliminating hatred for your enemies is to think of all humanity as a part of each of us. When we are angry with a person, we are angry with ourselves. We change their attitude. And when an opportunity occurs to do them a favor which will, without further ground in any way, bestow it gladly. It means helping yourself to higher ground as well.

But the ignorance of God's truth, the ignorance which blinds the mental vision to the eternal law of love, is the best policy and nothing goes but the truth to one's higher self, this is the better policy, which is the root of all wronging.

Best Form of Revenge

I've thought of words and deeds that you need do no more than deny a statement at which you know to be the best possible revenge to plan for your enemy.

When you think of them say mentally: "I am sorry for you, you are sorry for me, and you are ashamed, and you will make reparation. Peace, and love, and understanding of God's ways, and a larger sympathy with all humanity."

Remember always every slight before you sleep for those you believe are enemies. Do not be wronged. Remember the fact is a great peace. It is the very highest which we can make for our own souls, and it means to have an absolutely clear conscience and an awakened spirit and a broad understanding of God's ways, and a larger sympathy with all humanity.

When you wish your enemies peace and slight you ask for what will make them your friends and their own saviors, if they open their hearts and receive.

When you have absolutely banished hatred from your heart and learned to control even the impulses of anger, you will find that you are a better person. Your capacity to love will increase, and you will find that you are a better person. Your capacity to love will increase, and you will find that you are a better person.

But not to hunt a rabbit skin for baby. Not to-day!
He's gone to hunt the fish-moth, that stands knee deep in mud;
And oh! the horrid thing will eat your baby's red nose of blood.
When he sees Papa leave in sight to lift his eight-tide side,
And take it home to Babynka and his mother to ride.

B. Y. Baby Bunting, where has Papa been?
See the little bunny wink and grin a foolish grin!
He knows he's safe these happy days, for Papa's gone across
The turbulent Atlantic for to hunt the fish-moth from his nose.
And when he comes creeping back, why, what do you suppose?
He'll bring the tooth the monster wears into his stubby nose!

B. Y. Baby Bunting, Papa waves his hand;
He goes to hunt a circus out on Africa's burning strand;
And what with vixen and crocodiles and anus and chimpanzees,
And lions, tigers, and giraffes as tall as poplar trees,
He'll only need a side-show and some pink lemonade,
And Baby, if he doesn't cry, shall march in the parade.

B. Y. Baby Bunting, maybe he has seen
Circus bills of yellow, red, and orange and pink and green,
Bordered round with adhesive telltale frenzied facts,
About the cattive crocodile and how the sabra acts.
Run out doors and look at one, take a long fast look;
For, Baby, they'll seem pretty sick when Papa writes his book!

A Word to Working Women
By Winifred Black

A WELL-KNOWN and extremely clever woman made a speech at the Women's Wage-Earning Convention the other day, and in that speech she said not once but many times that the one thing important for working women to do was to raise themselves together to fight the tyrant man.

What on earth are women who say things like that thinking about? Women wage-earners are paid salaries to do their work—not to be women.

The man who wants a competent stenographer doesn't care whether that stenographer is black, white, green or yellow old or young, man or woman.

Half the time he really doesn't know. All that he knows is that his work is well done, in which case the stenographer gets a good salary and holds on to a good position.

Or that the work is in done, in which case the stenographer gets a poor salary and will lose the position the very first time there's a chance to employ some one more competent.

The story also who gets fired for being late to work is fired not because she is late, but because she's late. There it is and should be no such thing as sex in business.

A business woman who to succeed never saves anything about her headache or her backache or her home life. The man who says her hair isn't wavy enough, or that she has any self-respect, if at all, that's what she wants. The fact is, men in business are not tyrants enough to women in business.

The average man is so much kinder to his woman stenographer than he is to the male clerk that the idea of talking him a tyrant in his dealing with women is a joke.

Business men put up with enough silly incompetence from business women to make them put a title clear to the name of martyr, and not to the name of tyrant.

It's all wrong, the whole woman in business proposition, all wrong. Women ought not to have to be in business at all. But if you do have to be in business, then they must be treated like paid employees, and not like women in business.

If women would "raise themselves together" to the work they are said to do, and let it be at that, there would be some use in their having "self-respect" and in their listening to speeches about the "tyrant man"—who says them the money that buys their bread and butter.
